Dear Prospective Resource Parent,

Thank you for attending the IMPACT Orientation to resource parenting with the Department of Family and Children Services (DFCS). The orientation provided you with information on the DFCS mission, roles and responsibilities, permanency planning, children in care, supportive services and the resource parent certification process.

The IMPACT Orientation began the mutual selection process. This process emphasizes open communication and trust between prospective resource families and DFCS. Ultimately, it is hoped that you will be able to make an informed decision about your ability or desire to be a resource parent.

Your next step is to return this letter to your county DFCS office. Indicate below whether or not you have decided to continue your path toward resource parenting.

Whatever your decision, your interest in resource parenting with DFCS is sincerely appreciated.
