About the Program

The Georgia Senior Hunger Summit is one step in a larger plan to combat senior hunger in Georgia. This event will accomplish two things: 1) expand awareness of how deeply senior hunger affects Georgians and 2) examine underlying factors that accompany the problem. A multidisciplinary field of experts, legislators and community representatives will gather at the Summit to tackle tough issues – learning, brainstorming and planning together.

The DHS Division of Aging Services will document Summit discussions, share highlights, and form a diverse statewide work group charged with developing Georgia's first State Plan to Address Senior Hunger.

Target Audience

Legislators and elected officials, members of the business community including: national food service distributors, grocers, convenience store owners, the faith based community, civic leaders, food banks and others interested in the hunger status of people in their community.
